

TalkTalk Selects Workday Human Capital Management

Leading UK Provider of TV, Broadband, Mobile, and Home Phone Services to Streamline HR With Workday in the Cloud

PLEASANTON, CA and LONDON, UNITED KINGDOM--(Marketwired - Oct 8, 2014) - Workday, Inc. (NYSE: WDAY), a leader in enterprise cloud applications for finance and human resources, today announced that TalkTalk (LSE: TALK), Britain's best value broadband, home phone, TV and mobile services provider, has selected Workday Human Capital Management (HCM), Workday Time Tracking, and Workday Recruiting. Moving from an on-premise legacy system to Workday's unified suite of cloud applications for human resources (HR), TalkTalk will gain the flexibility and speed it needs to keep pace with growth, through greater insights into its talent pool, to improve workforce planning and to make faster and smarter business decisions.

Foundation Built for Growth and Change

Since creating a shared service HR function in 2011, TalkTalk has been challenged by a rigid legacy HR information system unable to support the evolving needs of the business. With Workday, TalkTalk will have an agile technology foundation delivered in the cloud that can easily adapt to organizational and market changes. Workday's unique business process framework will enable TalkTalk to automate HR processes while maintaining the flexibility to easily adapt to new or changing business requirements, such as configuring a new approval workflow or adding and amending steps in a particular process.

Robust Workforce Planning and Analytics

Workday will also provide TalkTalk with a single source for data, capturing information at every stage of the talent lifecycle in one complete seamless system, from recruiting and onboarding to performance and succession. With this rich base of data, TalkTalk will have a holistic view of its workforce, empowering managers with greater visibility into their talent. For example, with Workday Recruiting, hiring managers will be able to identify the best internal and external candidates for jobs in one system. In addition, managers will have greater insight into their teams to better measure performance and recognize top talent, while matching skill sets with the right roles and opportunities in the organization.

With analytics built into the core of Workday HCM, TalkTalk executives and managers will now have access to real-time data about the workforce. Executives will be able to view accurate information in the moment of a decision, such as current headcount and employee costs, minimizing risks and enabling faster and smarter decision-making. HR managers will also have greater insights into the workforce, such as current and projected capacity and capability gaps, for more robust workforce planning.

A Mobile and Empowered Workforce

With the introduction of Workday, managers and employees will have greater self-service capabilities to perform tasks, explore information, and take action from any mobile device. For example, managers can easily complete administrative tasks, such as approving time off and managing annual pay reviews, anywhere, from any device, enabling them to make timely decisions on the move. Employees will also be able to easily access information and complete tasks, such as updating personal data or requesting time off, at any time and from anywhere, creating a more mobile, empowered workforce.
